The amendment and response to restriction filed December 3, 2002 have been entered.

Applicant's election of Group VI, claim 20, in Paper No. 12 is acknowledged.

Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 5 818.03(a)).

Claims 1-19 and 21 have been cancelled.

Claims 22-36 are newly submitted.

Claims 20 and 22-36 are pending.

A supplemental restriction requirement follows.

10 Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121:

I. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from rapeseed, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

II. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from Crambe, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

15 III. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from Brassica juncea, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

IV. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from Canola, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

20 V. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from flax, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

VI. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from sunflower, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

VII. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from cotton, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

5 VIII. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from cuphea, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

IX. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from soybean, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

10 X. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from peanut, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

XI. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from coconut, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

XII. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from oil palm, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

15 XIII. Claims 20, 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from corn, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

XIV. Claims 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from Brassica nigra, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

20 XV. Claims 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from meadowfoam, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

XVI. Claims 22-33 and 35-36, to the extent that claims are drawn to a triglyceride oil from safflower, classified in Class 436, subclass 71, for example.

XVII. Claim 34, drawn to a paint, varnish, synthetic polymer, resin, lubricant or cosmetic having the oil of claim 33 as a component, classified in Class 106, subclass 220, for 5 example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-XVII are each distinct products. The inventions of Groups I-XVI are each drawn to triglyceride oils that are each from different plant species, wherein each different 10 plant species would have been transformed with a fatty acid hydroxylase sequence. Each of these oils would be made separately each by extraction from a different plant species, wherein one would not require any of the others and each would have a distinct chemical composition.
In addition, each of Groups I-XVI are distinct from the invention of Group XVII which is a different chemical compound having different properties and different effects, and can be made 15 with an oil that is different from any one of the oils of Groups I-XVI, such as any one of the other oils of any of these groups. Therefore, the inventions of Groups I-XVII are capable of being separately made, independently used and the patentability one would not render either of the other obvious or unpatentable.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a 20 separate status in the art as shown for their different classification and the requirement for additional areas of search restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) if one or more of 5 the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. § 1.17(h).
